Newspaper Website Terms and Conditions

8. Our Intellectual Property Rights

We, or people we have contracted with, own or are licensed to use all the copyright, database rights or similar rights and information within the Site. You may use the information and reproduce it in hard copy for your personal use and reference only. Except where you are using a feature of the Site, such as "e-mail a friend", the information on the Site may not otherwise be reproduced, distributed or transmitted to any other person or incorporated in any way into another document or other material without our prior written approval. Any hard copies you make must retain all copyright and proprietary notices. You must not alter or try to alter any words, data, image or other item on the Site other than those items that are intended to be completed or changed by you.

3. Use of material appearing on guardian.co.uk

For the purposes of this agreement, "material" means material including, without limitation, text, video, graphics and sound material, published on the guardian.co.uk network, whether copyright of Guardian News & Media Limited or a third party.

You may download and print extracts from the material and make copies of these for your own personal and non-commercial use only. You are not allowed to download or print the material, or extracts from it, in a systematic or regular manner or otherwise so as to create a database in electronic or paper form comprising all or part of the material appearing on guardian.co.uk.

You must not reproduce any part of guardian.co.uk or the material or transmit it to or store it in any other website or disseminate any part of the material in any other form, unless we have indicated that you may do so.

Our content distribution system which you can find at guardian.co.uk/headlineservice gives details of the manner in which we allow you to reproduce parts of our material on your site.

We may be prepared to allow you to distribute or reproduce other parts of guardian.co.uk or the material in certain circumstances. Please email our Permissions Executive Eve Thompson at permissions.syndication@guardian.co.uk if you wish to apply for permission to do so.

Web Aggregation: If you are a paid for web aggregator you require a licence to redistribute the content of this site. Licences can be obtained through the Newspaper Licensing Agency (www.nla.co.uk). Users of paid for aggregation services and organisations systematically distributing web content internally should also contact NLA to discuss licence requirements.

MailOnline

2.2. Unless otherwise stated in these Terms, you must not (whether directly or indirectly) copy, download, store, make available, distribute, sell or offer to sell all or any part of the content or Site, or download or otherwise copy (whether directly or indirectly) any content, files or data from the Site to make or populate a database or publication of any kind whatsoever. If you require any further information on permitted use, or a licence to re-publish any part of the Site (or any Content), please email us at editorial@dailymailonline.co.uk or contact us by telephone on 020 7938 6000 or contact The Newspaper Licencing Association - www.nla.co.uk.
